Some employees walk off jobs

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

City employees represented by the Teamsters Union in Romulus have walked off their jobs in protest of the firing of four Department of Public Works employees.

Some 77 clerical workers and Department of Public Works (DPW) employees in Romulus left their jobs late Monday night after learning that a 4-man water tap crew was fired after the loss of the 200-pound $1,200 tapping machine from the crew's truck.

Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt termed the walk-out a "wild-cat strike" in violation of the city's contract with Teamsters Local 214.

"There is a grievance procedure which must be followed, even in this instance," Troutt said. "The employees didn't follow it."

The procedure includes a 5-step program to settle disputes between the city and the union with the final step being compulsory arbitration.

Troutt said the employees only got to the second step in the procedure before leaving their jobs.

"I haven't had any contact with the employees," he said. "And I won't until they get back to work."

Teamsters officials weren't available for comment on the matter.

However, employees of the city claimed that the four persons dismissed from their jobs were fired for the theft of the tapping equipment after voluntarily taking a lie detector test on the matter and failing it.

According to Troutt, the four employees were tested by the Wayne County Sheriff's Department with two of the tests proving to be inconclusive.

"But the city knows a lie detector test won't stand up in court," Troutt said.

"The firing was for negligence."

"The equipment belongs to the people of the City of Romulus."

"If the employees are negligent in its use, and it's lost, something must be done."

"The city has lost thousands of dollars of equipment in the past, and it has to stop."

The mayor said essential city services will be performed during the strike, with water main work being done by an outside contractor.

Rubbish removal is done by a private contractor and is not affected. Neither the Romulus Fire Department nor the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol have joined in the strike.

Officials in city consider business licensing plan

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

Romulus officials soon will be considering a proposal to license all businesses in the community to make present city regulations governing the operations of businesses which may not provide adequate service.

The proposal formally will be presented to the Romulus City Council in the near future by City Clerk Leonard Folmar.

"It's an attempt on my part to make our regulations more equitable and to give the city some muscle when it receives complaints in the consumer protection area," Folmar said. "Right now, the city licenses grocery stores but not drug stores."

"That makes licensing a discriminatory practice against grocery stores."

Folmar added that the city should monitor the businesses which locate in the community to ensure that they operate in a manner which benefits the citizens.

"The licensing will give the city some ability to take care of such problems as poorly-paved parking lots or complaints about products," Folmar said.

"I recently had a family come in to my office to complain about an asphalt company which claimed it had located in Romulus."

"The firm did a poor job, and wouldn't do repairs."

"It wasn't listed in the phone book and the city didn't have a record of its location, so the city was unable to help the residents."

Folmar added that reputable firms would be more than willing to apply for a license.

"The good firms come in the request licenses, because having that on the wall gives them that much more credibility with the consuming public," he continued. "It's only the firms that have something to hide which do not want the city to become involved in licensing."

Folmar said he did not consider the proposal another instance of government stepping into private enterprise.

"The city already has established the precedent that concerns must meet minimum requirements to locate in the community with such regulations as the zoning ordinance and building codes," he continued. "In addition, the city already licenses some businesses but not others."

"This is an attempt to make the regulation more equitable to all; to give the residents a better opportunity to gauge the type of businesses they will patronize with."

"If citizens are unsure about a deal they're to make, they always can request proof that the business has been licensed by the city as an assurance that the business wants to cooperate to provide better service."

Folmar said he began drafting the ordinance after consulting both with Romulus City Attorney William Munger and the Better Business Bureau.

According to Folmar, Munger thought the ordinance was a good idea. The Better Business Bureau urged him to pursue the idea.

He said he intends to continue research into the proposal.

To plan Bicentennial Thirty sought for committee

Work is underway to form a core of 25 or 30 Romulus citizens who will be charged with the task of involving the entire Romulus community in the United States' Bicentennial celebration in 1976.

Jack Trumble, chairman of the Romulus Bicentennial Committee, said he has talked to representatives from service clubs and is preparing letters requesting their participation in the Bicentennial celebration.

"I hope to have the Bicentennial Committee together within two weeks,"

Trumble added. "The 25 or 30 citizens who participate will be asked to head various committees to draw up plans on means of celebrating the nation's 200th anniversary."

"And the citizens of Romulus will be asked to participate in the committees."

Trumble said he is enthused at the city's opportunity to commemorate the 200th anniversary of independence in the United States.

"It's a patriotic thing to do, and it will mean something to the community to get as many citizens as possible involved in community affairs," he continued. "I anticipate Romulus' celebration to be the biggest the community has seen."

Police pollsters

Wayne County Sheriff's Deputy Mark Davis records Audrey Stoleton's remarks about the department's service to Romulus during a recent survey conducted to poll community opinion. Mrs. Stoleton, a beauty operator in the heart of Romulus business section, responded favorably to the deputy's questions. The survey is part of a new advanced training program being initiated by Wayne County Sheriff William Lucas.

Trumble said some suggestions on means to celebrate the Bicentennial have been sent to the committee.

Included in the suggestions is forming a tape-recorded history of Romulus, providing a written history of the community, establishing an essay contest within the community, building booths at the Wayne County 4-H Fair and the Michigan State Fair and running parades in 1975 and 1976.

"The main goal is to involve as many people as possible," and to establish some degree of community pride and a long-lasting tribute to the nation's 200th anniversary," Trumble added.

Leaders of the core Bicentennial Committee have been named, with Trumble serving as chairman, Phil McNett as vice-chairman, Leo Kolata as treasurer and Marge McCarty as secretary.

Included in the list of representatives from interest groups in the city are Beverly McAnally representing city government; Kim Cardwell representing youth; Kenneth Piotrowski representing banks; Harry Nelson representing the Kiwanis; Gary Bingham representing the Recreation Department and Diane Hazen representing the library.

For 1st time Symphonic Band gains first rating

For the first time in the history of Romulus South Junior High School, the Symphonic Band and has returned from a district competition with a first division rating.

The accomplishment last week prompted the Romulus Board of Education to decide to send a letter of congratulations and praise to South Junior High Band Director Richard Kruse and the student members of the band.

"We should be very proud," said Board of Education Trustee Gloria Chandler in suggesting the letter. "It's the first time such a thing has happened."

The competition, sponsored annually by the Michigan School Band Association, was held March 8 at Saline Middle School.

The 78-member South Junior High Symphonic Band competed in Class A with 11 other schools in District 12, which includes Wayne, Washtenaw and Monroe counties.

In addition to the school's symphonic band success, the 52-member South Junior High Concert Band also competed, garnering a second division rating in Class D competition.

A 4-judge panel graded the bands on their expertise in the performance of a march, one required number, one selected number and a difficult sight-reading performance given without the opportunity for rehearsal.

The Symphonic Band now will be able to go on to state competition on April 26, according to Kruse.

"I told the kids that if they've had enough of me this year, that was OK."

I've been a real bear on them," he added. "But they voted to go. They're great."

The band director added that not only should the band members be credited for first class musical ability, but the ability to promote their music as well.

"In the past nine years, band members have brought in $43,000 through fundraising efforts in the community," Kruse said. "The money is used for instruments, equipment and some trips, and I think it's pretty amazing for a group of junior high kids to have accomplished such a thing."

Council plans block grant use

An expected federal grant of $157,000 for community development within the next year will be used to clean up abandoned homes, assist in securing low interest home improvement loans and clean a polluted drain if all goes according to tentative plans adopted by the Romulus City Council.

Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt said the council met in special session Thursday night to determine rough appropriations from the amount the city expects to receive from the federal Community Development Block Grant Program.

John Chihan, industrial coordinator and planner for the city, said the $157,000 first-year payment will be apportioned roughly as follows:

—$52,500 to deal with the problem of abandoned homes in the Meadows subdivision at Middlebelt and Ecorse roads.

—$52,500 to assist people throughout the city by trying to establish low interest home improvement loans at below market rates.

—$32,000 to rid the Trouton Drain near Wayne Road and Van Born of pollutants reportedly dumped in by nearby industry.

Chihan said the remaining $20,000 would be used for detailing and setting up the three programs.

Community Assistance Director Charles Omarzu added that the council based its recommendations for appropriating the funds on four public hearings held in recent weeks to gain citizen input about how the block grant funds were needed.

The plan now must be submitted to the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) for approval. Omarzu and Chihan said the city anticipates applying for more funds under the federal program once HUD makes further details available.

As the program is laid out, Romulus will receive $628,000 during the next five years. Grants of $157,000 will be received each year for the next three years, with two-thirds that amount coming in the fourth year and one-third that amount in the fifth year, according to Omarzu.

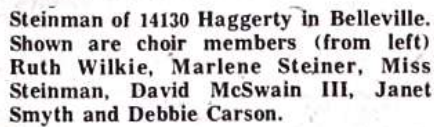

The council set a date of April 1 for public hearing on the use of grant funds. The grant application, as tentatively planned, will be available for public scrutiny at the Romulus city clerk's office until that time.

Arithmetic error ends in revision of contract

An arithmetic error on the part of the district's architect has caused the Romulus Board of Education to revise the amount of the contract awarded to a Troy-based company for the installation of heating, ventilation and air conditioning (HVAC) systems at the new North Junior High School building.

A representative for project architect Charles Sherman last week told the board an adding error on his part led to an earlier incorrect bid total of $876,600 for the HVAC contract being presented to the board.

Upon the architect's recommendation, the board accepted that bid and awarded the contract to Select Air Co. of Troy.

The representative last week informed the board he had discovered his error in totaling the bid, saying the earlier total he submitted was $16,100 too low, bringing the actual bid total to $892,700.

The board was asked to revise the amount of the contract award accordingly, since the amount bid by the next lowest bidder had been reached through the same error.

The board members unanimously voted to revise the amount.

Fair plans grow

BELLEVILLE—Sponsors of the upcoming Spring Trade Fair jointly sponsored by the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce and the Canton Township Chamber of Commerce met recently to assess the latest plans for the event. Such attractions as an antique hot rod exhibit, a speed and action horse show, live country 'n' western style entertainment and scores of business exhibits have been lined up, according to fair co-chairmen Kurt Atchinson and Bart Berg.

Parking tax considered

BELLEVILLE—A special 1-year tax assessment against businessmen in the city is being considered by Belleville officials to raise funds for the maintenance of municipal parking lots. The special assessment plan is one of several being considered by the City Council to transfer the cost of maintaining parking lots in the city from the general fund. "It's a case where the merchants seems to be willing to pay for the cost of maintenance, but can't agree on a means," said Belleville Mayor Ellis Amerman.

Theft saddens 'Happy' owner

There are those who would say Pat Jajuga is making much too big a thing of quite an unimportant incident.

But those people never have owned a pet like Happy.

Happy was the Jajuga family's pet dog a much-loved member of the family stolen last week by insensitive visitors to their home at 7050 Hannan, Van Buren Township.

"I'm just heartsick, I don't know what to do," Mrs. Jajuga said. "Somebody without a love of animals doesn't know what it's like. I feel like I've lost a child."

She said one day last week, three unidentified people answered an ad she had run in The Daily Eagle, an Associated Newspapers publication, offering free puppies from a litter one of the family's other pets had just had.

Mrs. Jajuga was out of the house at the time the trio visited, and her mother showed them the puppies. One took a puppy and the three quickly were gone.

She has asked that anyone with information about the missing pet call her at 721-4457 or 729-3535.

Until Happy is found, there will be a little less joy in at least one Van Buren Township household.

Carlton added that the 14 stores closed by the firm represent only 17 percent of Vescio's volume. The firm operates supermarkets under the names of Vescio's, Vescio's Country Markets and Plumb's Markets across the state.

PCHA to meet on budget plan

The Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) Board of Directors will meet tomorrow at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne to approve the authority's operating budget for the coming year and to approve millage levies in the authority's 23-member communities.

The annual budget, which exceeds $40 million, must be approved prior to April 1 to be effective.

The meeting scheduled for tomorrow breaks precedent with past PCHA practices, since the Board of Directors meets on the last Thursday of each month.

However, the March meeting was moved up to ensure that the board had one more week to approve the budget, should a quorum of the 46-member board not attend tomorrow's meeting.

The millage levy — .4 mills in each member community — raises $1.4 million of the authority's operating budget each year.

Levying the millage allows the authority to bond for improvements and construction within the authority's area at the same tax-free rates enjoyed by governmental agencies.

Besides Annapolis Hospital in Wayne, the PCHA operates Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti, Outer Drive Hospital in Lincoln Park and Seaway Hospital in Trenton.

Senate appointment 'serves' peace

Panax Newspapers extend congratulations to the U.S. Senate for promptly confirming Nathaniel Davis as assistant secretary of state for Africa. This action, taken in the Senate by acclamation, serves the interests of peace and racial understanding on that continent as well as the long-range interest for American security.

To have rejected Davis, a distinguished Foreign Service career officer, would have been grossly unfair to the man himself.

Beyond that, such an action by the Senate could have frayed the delicate fabric of reconciliation which Prime Minister John Vorster of the Republic of South Africa has begun to weave with help from time to time from Zambian President Kenneth Kaunda, Tanzanian President Julius Nyerere and other moderate black African leaders.

It would seem any State Department appointment capable of easing tension anywhere in our troubled world would have been welcomed with open arms.

And that is the way it turned out in the Senate after earlier indications that President Ford's nomination of Davis would kick up a fuss. Testimony earlier before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, produced unfair and illogical criticism of Davis.

Two black Michigan Democratic Congressmen—John Conyers Jr., and Charles C. Diggs Jr.—were among the parade of witnesses who figuratively heaped coals on Davis' head. Diggs even tried without success to get the nomination withdrawn by appealing personally to President Ford. Maybe on reflection they will realize their mistake.

Reacting in a way almost without precedent, the foreign ministers of the Organization of African Unity (OAU), at a recent meeting in Addis Ababa, injected themselves into what primarily was a matter strictly for the United States government. They claimed without any evidence that Davis is unsympathetic to the aspirations of black African countries and might even use devious means to overthrow some of the continent's "strong man" regimes.

Later some of the black foreign ministers realized they were out of bounds and softened their comments some, but the damage already had been done.

To remove the shadow over Davis, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger described the appointee as a professional diplomat "exemplary in all respects."

Kissinger explained the importance of having ambassadors who carry out instructions faithfully and added: "An ambassador often is confronted by difficult political problems. His advice is sought, but difficult political decisions are made in Washington."

With that remark, Kissinger clearly tried to lift the onus from extremists and some liberals have placed on Davis because he served as American Ambassador to Chile during the period when the CIA was accused of trying to de-stabilize the leftwing Allende government.

Confirmation of Davis is expected to signal the assumption by Kissinger of more direct control over U.S. policy in Africa. The resulting difference, State Department veterans believe, will be largely one of tone. Kissinger, with Davis as his lieutenant, will do what he can to encourage moves by Vorster to lead South Africa away from its rigid, systematic forms of racial discrimination and to realize a détente between the Republic and neighboring black African states.

In the opinion of some observers, former Secretary of State for Africa Donald B. Easum was so emotionally committed to the future of the black African countries that it was difficult for him to exert any influence on the white governments of South Africa and Rhodesia.

Davis, as the new head of the African section, is expected to launch a detailed analysis of the foundation of American policy toward all the nations of the African continent. This study, in turn, is certain to reveal the need for closer American commercial, diplomatic and defense ties with the Republic of South Africa while also strengthening Washington's relationships with black Africa.

American's long range defense needs call for nothing less.

South Africa could and should be a more important commercial and military partner of ours than she now is.

Long range economic aid which South Africa and the United States, working closely together, can supply black Africa also can frustrate the efforts of the intruders from the Soviet Union and Communist China who hope to make subservient Red satellites out of the new African countries.

To sustain life

Utilities in Michigan need rate hike

By BOB BERG,
Enterprise-Roman Lansing Bureau Chief

(First of two articles)

The rate increases recently awarded Michigan's two major electrical utilities by the Michigan Public Service Commission (PSC) marked the start, not the finish, of the road back to solid financial ground for the troubled firms.

The increases of 11 percent in rates for Detroit Edison and 12 percent for Consumers Power Co. represent more of a subsistence diet to help sustain life rather than a hearty meal for a vigorous, strong company.

Before the year has progressed much further, in fact, all four of Michigan's large utilities will be filing petitions for rate increases with the PSC, though billion — a staggering investment gas companies didn't even dream of until recent years.

So Mich Con will be asking for a rate increase because of a conviction that in the current business situation a utility's good financial status is like virginity — it can be protected, but once lost it can't be regained.

"There is no way you can get companies healthy again once they're down, the way this commission is operating," said Charles Montgomery, executive vice-president of Mich Con.

Next on the health list is Michigan Bell. Bell received a $59.6 million rate increase last year, but President David vehicles and its coal pile and then lease them back just to get cash to pay its bills.

The problems of inflation and recession, of high interest rates and low profits, of unforeseen problems in adopting new technology and slow movement on rate increases have them at the brink. Even their most optimistic forecasts say it will take years to return to good health.

It isn't just a simple matter of whether they can turn a profit, though profits are an important part of the picture for any business. The question is whether they can grow to meet needs in the future, whether they can find a way to raise massive amounts of money to keep ahead of the rising demand for electricity.

A non-utility business confronted with similar problems could pull back and ride out the storm. If need be it could reduce production, close some plants or cut staff, even give up part of its market to stay healthy and keep from overextending itself.

But Edison and Consumers, since they are public utilities don't have that option. They have been given a monopoly on their market by the state and they have a legal obligation to provide service to all of the people and businesses in that market. To cut back would violate the franchise under which they operate. The homeowner is business cut off from service wouldn't have another electric company to turn to.

So they have to grow, even if providing for that growth is an uneconomic pursuit which damages the profit picture and financial health.

"The financial interest of the utility as a corporation and the public's interest in receiving adequate supplies of electricity are beginning to move in opposite directions," said William Rosenberg, chairman of the PSC.

"While the economics of the firm may require construction curtailments, the nation's economic development, energy requirements and national security require a new reliance on coal and nuclear generating, consistent with adequate safety and environmental standards," he added.

Expansion in the electrical field never has been a cheap matter, but in recent years it has ballooned to the point where it is talked about in terms of multiples of $100 million rather than multiples of $10 million.

Right now, Edison and Consumers have either canceled or sharply curtailed construction projects costing $3.7 billion. Three of the nuclear projects halted already have had $500 million spent on them and they are sitting idle, costing roughly $100 million a year in carrying charges such as interest and taxes.

In the past, expansion was no problem. It was financed with long-term loans that were paid off over a 30- or 20-year period from revenues produced after whatever was being financed had been completed and was in operation. The utilities' credit rating was good and their needs were well within what they could afford.

But now Consumers finds itself literally unable to borrow any money. Its financing in the past has been done under a restriction that it will borrow no more unless its earnings each year are double the amount needed to pay all the interest it owes. It's below that level now.

"We are totally unable to sell bonds right now," said Al Aymond, president of Consumers. "It wouldn't take much more than we are receiving in rates right now to put us in a position to be able to borrow again, not more than 10 or 15 percent more than what received in rates this last time."

Edison doesn't have the same requirements for coverage of its debt that Consumers has, but its debt ratio — the ratio of debt to earnings — is so high it doesn't feel it can afford to try to borrow more.

For that reason, it filed with the 9 1/2 percent," said Robert Hartwell, executive vice-president for finance at Edison. "That's the result of our drop in ratings and that extra interest eventually is going to be paid by the ratepayers."

Hartwell said Edison won't even try to issue more bonds to resume its construction schedule until its bond rating goes back up one notch. That won't happen before July 1976, at the earliest. It will take the sale of stock and another hefty rate hike to make it possible.

That gets perilously close to 1977, the year Hartwell said Edison can't they are in widely varying positions at the moment.

'Unless they turn around this year, it's too late.'

Healthiest of the four is Michigan Consolidated Gas, which furnished gas to more than one million customers last year while earning the maximum profit level allowed by the PSC. But Mich Con, as it is known, is preparing to undergo the most basic possible change in its operation — an almost total switchover in the source of its gas. It's going to take large chunks of new money to do that.

By the 1980's, Mich Con will be pumping gas from a plant in North Dakota which will make synthetic natural gas from low grade coal. Estimated cost of the coal mine, the plant and pipeline facilities is $1.7

Easlick lambasted the action as a "devastating blow." It represented about half of what Bell had asked for. Easlick said the ruling could result in "long term impacts on service" with possible layoffs and other cutbacks.

With all its problems, however, Bell still is considered a very healthy company. Its credit rating still is the highest possible.

But where Mich Con and Bell are healthy, if nervous, Detroit Edison and Consumers Power are close to being invalids. Bell feels it is being squeezed because it might not be able to purchase all of the 900 new vehicles it planned on this year. But Edison last year had to sell its entire fleet of guarantee service to new customers because its current generating capacity won't be able to meet the projected demand. It's the year prognosticators, including Rosenberg, say brownouts or blackouts could first be experienced in Michigan.

What's the solution to this snowballing potential nightmare?

"We need higher rates," Hartwell said. "It's that simple. Earnings are too low and until they go up we can't raise the money we need to expand to meet future demands."

There is no doubt customers using electricity will be paying higher rates by the end of the year.

'We need higher rates. . . It's that simple. . .'

Securities and Exchange Commission last Tuesday to sell three million shares of common stock — a move taken with great reluctance because of the depressed price of its stock.

Even if the companies were in a position to borrow more money, their credit rating has fallen so badly they would have to pay extremely high interest rates for it and borrow it only for short terms. In the past two years Consumers' credit rating has fallen four notches — a devastating blow — and Edison's rating has fallen three slots in just six months.

Generally speaking, this turned out to be a false promise. Over the long run, the women who have gone into politics have been able to match the men, hypocrisy for hypocrisy.

This had made them totally acceptable to the men of the breed, if a disappointment to the voters.

But there have been exceptions, and so we always can dream.

The truth of the matter is that the time has come for us to really do what we always have pretended to do, choose any candidate purely on the basis of merit. We should not concern ourselves with the sex of the candidate. And we should not concern ourselves with the political party of the candidate, either.

The registrations show that we are getting somewhat smarter. There still are many diehards—diehard Republicans and diehard Democrats.

But the tendency is to register as an independent, to pledge the vote to no one and no group until the issues have been thought out and the speeches have been heard out.

Deep down, there never have been any real party policies. There have been American foreign policies and American economic policies, right or wrong.

The party differences largely are sham, largely con jobs to enslave mentally a constituency to give the candidate a heard start over his rival.

We should wise up to this. Faced with an election, we should weigh as best we can the choices and then vote right — Democrat or Republican, man or woman.

Party, sex really shouldn't matter

By STAN OPOTOWSKY

Okay, so there's a woman in England who might become prime minister.

Well, it's their country. Let 'em run it their way.

It could spread, of course. Some day we might have a woman President... well, a woman vice-president anyway.

What's the big deal? In my house we have had a woman in charge for many years.

In Connecticut they have a woman governor. She has caused only one problem since she took office at the start of this year. She keeps telling her constituents the truth. And, of course, any fool knows that this hardly is the way to operate in politics.

Of course, she won't last. In a very few years the voters will get their opportunity to oust her and put in a good old-fashioned male governor who will campaign on a no-tax-increase ticket and then, upon inauguration, increase taxes 10 percent in order to finance the kind of welfare and onto the state payroll.

When women first were campaigning for the vote, back in the good old days when they knew their place, the one thing they offered which was tantalizing was that they would never become enmeshed in the corruption and

'Funtastic' on for Saturday

The Romulus Community Workers have completed plans for a children's program, "The Easter Funtastics," to be held from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday in the Romulus High School gymnasium.

The program will include skits, clowns, a magician, Sesame Street characters and special Easter treats for each child.

Geneva Clark, staff member of Family and Neighborhood Services, said volunteers worked very hard on the program and received a great deal of help from other community groups.

Easter treats will be provided by the Romulus Jaycees, the Jaycee Auxiliary, the Romulus Recreation Department, the American Progressive Association, the Romulus Civic League and a number of Girl Scout troops.

Romulus Senior Citizens are filling Easter baskets with treats, and the Board of Education is assisting in publicity.

Staff from Project Head Start and Sesame Street will present skits and chaperones are being provided by volunteers from the Romulus Community Workers.

Directing staff

Board appoints one of its own

The Board of Wayne County Road Commissioners has appointed one of its own members as managing director of the board's staff.

Thomas P. O'Rourke, a former 3-term elected county commissioner and the newest member of the Road Commission, resigned from the Road Commission to accept the chief executive post.

The board move came in the wake of last week's public announcement from James M. Davey that he planned to retire, having completed nearly 30 years of service to the Road Commission.

Davey, 54, had been managing director since 1961. He joined the staff in 1946.

O'Rourke, 39, an industrial manufacturer's sales representative, will be replaced on the Road Commission board by an election among the 27-member Wayne County Board of Commissioners. No election date has been set.

"In naming O'Rourke managing director, we strongly considered his background in government service, his leadership role on various committees and his absolute dedication to public service programs," said Road Commissioner Michael Berry.

"I'm looking forward to the challenge and will continue to be responsive to the board's requirements of providing public service to all areas of Wayne County," O'Rourke added.

'First Team': a look at conquered U.S.

By SUE McDONALD
Of The Enterprise-Staff

The United States, a conquered country. It seems a bit far fetched, but with the backdrop of today's politics—its threats, counterthreats and mini confrontations—and public sentiment, the idea can seem like a chilling reality.

John Ball has captured that chill in his novel, "The First Team," offering readers a look into what it might be like to live in America, the land of the brave and satellite country of the Soviet Union.

The plot is a simple one: how the United States survives such an insult to its dignity and reclaims its territory, once again to become the land of the free.

The story revolves around an interpreter, fluent in Russian, who moves from his job of translating captured documents to appointment secretary for the apparent Russian "governor" of the conquered country.

A heady prospect for most people to hold suddenly a position similar to the mythological ferryman at the gate of Hades, but Hewitt keeps his head at ground level and soon finds himself caught up in a planned counterattack, staged by a small group of patriots—The First Team.

Cleverly concealed under romantic intentions, Hewitt becomes an important cog in the operations, being directed from a secretive hideout ordered by the President, but without the knowledge of Congress. Add intricate precautions against discovery and those for discovery, an anti-semitic Russian secret police chief and the threat of a nuclear holocaust and the result is spell-binding.

How do you fight Russia? Ball poses the question and answers it brilliantly. It's a book filled from cover to cover with the familiar tale of cat chasing mouse, but this time the latter has something a bit more powerful than cheese up its sleeve.

The most unnerving point of the book is its unplanned parallel to today's occurrences. Senatorial investigations that well could have been lifted from this morning's paper, antiwar sentiments and a demand for less military spending, all part of today and all part of Ball's masterpiece.

Although capitulation, let alone surrender without firing a shot, is as un-American as a Russian in the White House, the possibility does exist. Ball proves that.

It's a shot in the dark, but he takes it. The end result is must reading for everyone. It's like a sneak preview of things to come or Dickens' ghost of Christmas future paying a return engagement. Ball blends the fears of the past—the Jewish programs instituted by Adolf Hitler and secret listening devices—with the fears of the future—the war to end all wars—all in a credible web of suspense.

Institute hosts French showing

An exhibition of art of the most volatile period of French history has begun a display at the Detroit Institute of Arts, offering Western Wayne County residents a look at paintings making the first and possibly last visit to the United States.

"French Painting 1774-1830: The Age of Revolution" is the first official event of the area's Bicentennial celebration and the American debut of this international loan show, direct from its initial display at the Grand Palais of the Louvre, Paris. This is the largest exhibition of the period ever organized for showing in the United States.

The subtitle, "The Age of Revolution," summarizes the turmoil and triumph of 56 years, spanning the reign of Louis XVI, the French Revolution, the Napoleonic era and the brief resurrection of the Bourbon monarchy. "The best of times...the worst of times." It was a revolution in both French art and French government. A new concept of individual liberty stimulated the struggle for freedom on both sides of the Atlantic.

Free public tours, conducted by volunteer Docents, will be offered hourly between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., Tuesday through Friday

REGAL PORTRAIT—Now on loan to the Detroit Institute of Arts as part of special collection of French art from the Age of Revolution is Jean-Auguste-Dominique Ingres' "Portrait of Napoleon I on His Imperial Throne." The exhibit will be shown at the institute through May 4. Paintings were lent by the Musee de l'Armee in Paris.

Wonder what's in there?

Youngsters in the toddler stage have discovered they have feet that, put to a motorized use, can lead to a whole new world of adventure. But combine their ability to get around with carelessness and the result can be a potentially lethal situation. Whether the medicine cabinet, kitchen cupboard filled with cleansers or a forgotten bottle of polish within reach, the possibility of poisoning a youngster is present. But with an eye toward safety, parents during Poison Prevention Week can avoid infant fatalities. — Photo by The Enterprise-Roman Chief Photographer Lothar Konietzko.

Simon goes to dinner

The members of the Ypsilanti players busily rehearsing Neil Simon's comedy hit, "Prisoner of Second Avenue," for a dinner theater presentation on March 28-29 and April 4-5. To show at the Flaming Pit in Ypsilanti, the play concerns an unemployment crisis for Mel and Edna Edison. Mel gets fired because of the failing economy and worries how to break the news to his wife.

To cope with the situation, she gets a job which humiliates Mel and nearly drives him to a nervous breakdown. His attempts to find a job fail and he begins to think of himself as too old, at age 47, to be useful.

The situation provides many opportunities for uproarious comedy for cast members, directed by T. Tubbs.

Reservations currently are being taken at 485-0595 from 2-8 p.m. daily except Sundays. Tickets are $9 including a buffet and performance of the play.

Cayce group slates informational lectures

Several groups in the Belleville-Romulus community will be offering two informational lectures on the philosophy of author Edgar Cayce.

The first show will be at the Romulus City Hall, 11111 Wayne Road, at 8 p.m. tomorrow and will include a slide presentation on the Shroud of Turin, believed to have the shroud Jesus was wrapped in after the Crucifixion. A discussion also will follow to explain the various markings on the material.

The second lecture will be at North Junior High School in Belleville on April 7. It also will be at 8 p.m. It will be entitled "Reincarnation."

No admission will be charge, and the discussions are open to the public.

Hand tool misuse blamed for injury

About four percent of all compensable injuries can be traced to the improper use of hand tools, according to figures gathered by the Michigan Department of Labor.

"If you misuse a hand tool, or use a defective tool, you may risk suffering a serious injury such as the loss of eyes and vision, or puncture wound from flying chips," said a department spokesman.

To avoid accidents, the department suggests four safety precautions when using hand tools:

—Select the right tool for the job. Don't use a wrench for a hammer.

—Keep tools in good working condition. Don't use hammers with loose heads.

—Use tools in the right way. Don't use electrical equipment that is not grounded.

—Keep tools in a safe place. Don't leave tools on the floor.

Merritt praised in tribute

A memorial tribute to a man who served Sumpter Township in an official capacity for more than 28 years of his life has been adopted by officials of the township's government.

Bert Merritt, long-time resident of Sumpter and past township supervisor, died last month at the age of 87. The Sumpter Board of Trustees last week paid tribute to his memory and his years of service to the community by adopting a special resolution in his memory.

The resolution cited Merritt's tenure as township treasurer from 1926 to 1930; as township clerk from 1931 to 1941 and as township supervisor from 1942 to 1954.

For those reasons, the resolution stated, "the Board of Trustees express their highest tribute for Bert Merritt and extend condolences to his family and friends."

Copies of the memorial resolution were sent to members of Merritt's family.

The contest is open to all groups whose members are

HAROLD REDISKE, HAROLD REDISKE, JR. — DIRECTORS

True or false?...Does the ancient heathen celebration of "vernal equinox" — the arrival of spring — have significance to the Easter date? Does the Easter date go back as far as 325 A.D.? Was there ever a controversy over the date for the celebration of Easter? Did the first Council of Christian Churches at Nicea, in Asia Minor, decide the date of Easter? Is March 22 the earliest date on which Easter can occur? Is April 25 the latest date? Does the Christian Lent Season always begin on Ash Wednesday? Does it always begin 40 days before Easter, Sundays excepted? Did Lent ever last for only 40 hours? Did Lent ever comprise 30 days of fasting? Were the words of Christ: "A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another" — first spoken on Maundy Thursday?

The answer is yes to all the questions....Incidentally, an interesting thought will appear here next week for Easter. Watch for it. Don't miss it...

Agency warns of fraudulent claim

The Wayne County Consumer Protection Agency is asking residents of the Belleville-Romulus community to be alert to the practices of the Nationwide Abandoned Property Recovery Agency (NAPRA), which has been issued a cease and desist order based on alleged false advertising.

According to the agency, the NAPRA has been mailing what it called "impressive documents" to residents, informing them of unclaimed bank accounts under that name.

The NAPRA reportedly asks the person in question for a $15 "nonreturnable research and filing fee," in addition to a signing a "finder's fee agreement" that will give a percentage of the unclaimed account to the business.

The cease and desist order has been issued by the State Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division and alleges that the NAPRA is disseminating "false, misleading and deceptive advertising, since the document does not inform the consumer in what state the account is located or in what state the money is being held."

The division's order also claims the NAPRA does not disclose how many people with the same surname are being sent the same letter.

The Attorney General's office has informed the county consumer agency that such unclaimed accounts are a matter of public record in some states and that the NAPRA has been matching surnames on those accounts with those in telephone directories.

The county agency is advising residents to be cautious in answering such solicitations by mail to avoid being left with a costly batch of worthless papers.

From overpayment

IRS returns millions in state

Federal income tax refunds totaling $524,628,931.09 have been sent to Michigan taxpayers so far this year, according to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

R.L. Plate, district IRS director for Michigan, said refund checks had been sent to 1,132,360 early filers from Michigan as of March 7. The current average refund is $463.31, slightly more than the corresponding 1974 average, he added.

At the beginning of the 1975 filing period, IRS said early filers could expect their refund checks to be issued within four to five weeks from the date the return was mailed. Plate said the commitment has been kept. Some refunds were issued in as little as three weeks, he added.

March filers still can expect to receive their refunds in about five to six weeks, according to Plate. But taxpayers who wait until April to file will not be quite as fortunate.

Last minute filers can expect to wait about eight weeks to receive their refunds. Some 2.8 million Michigan taxpayers should receive federal tax refunds, Plate added.

He reminded taxpayers that 1974 tax returns should be filed without regard to the various tax rebate proposals being "considered by Congress."

If "rebate legislation" is enacted, it again will be the early-filer who benefits first, Plate said. A taxpayer's 1974 return must be received and processed by IRS before such a rebate can be issued.

Swimmers honored as All-Area

Belleville places 12 on coveted team

ARLO LIEBLER

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Thirty swimmers, 12 of whom led Belleville to the Western Wayne Swimming & Diving Championships, were singled out this week by area high school coaches for recognition on the 1975 "All-Area" team.

Leading Belleville's

contingent is senior Arlo Liebler who is a three-time All-Area diver. He is joined on the mythical team by diver Ted Ziolkowski, Dennis Harkness, Paul Wanshon, Farley Parsons, Mark Stoelton, Dave Barber, Steve Lehman, Ron Curtis, Jeff Fogarty, Harold Gable, and Dave Hamilton.

"ALL OF our swimmers have one thing in common," stressed Belleville Coach Sam Vicchy who is also being honored as co-holder of the Coach of the Year award. "We have never had a harder working group of kids as these," said Vicchy, "and we're really proud of them." Belleville captured the Western Wayne Invitational and also placed third in the tough Suburban 8 Conference. It was the best Tiger finish in the league since the "8" began competition three years ago.

LIEBLER climaxed an outstanding diving career by placing sixth in Class A state competition. He won the WW title as well as the conference crown.

"Arlo has had all kinds of offers from the colleges," said Vicchy, "it's really gratifying to see the way this kid developed. I can recall when he began diving competition as a 12-year-old youngster how frightened he was to get on the board. "It's gratifying to see what he has accomplished."

HARKNESS is also a holdover from last year's coveted swim team. The 18-year-old senior specializes in the backstroke and finished second in the event at the WW. He was sixth in the league and qualified for the state as a member of the medley relay team.

WANSHON is one of five Belleville juniors who made the grade. He also qualified for the state as a member of the medley relay squad. He placed third at the WW in the breaststroke, his specialty.

Paul touched in seventh in the league in the breaststroke competition.

PARSONS, a 16-year-old, junior, is mastering the butterfly and breaststroke events and will be the man to beat when the teams gather next year. He also competed at the state level as a member of the medley relay team.

STOELTON is one of the most exciting swimmers to hit the area prep scene in recent years. A sophomore who rounded out the state qualifying Belleville medley relay team, Mark holds the school record in the 50-yard freestyle (22.8), erasing a mark that had remained on the boards for the past eight years.

BARBER has been a member of the Tiger varsity squad for the past three years and has made All-Area the last two. He placed second in the Western Wayne in the 200-yard freestyle and went on to capture fourth

An attempt to keep All-Area track meet alive

By TOM MOORADIAN

One usually doesn't discuss the end of the track season before it even begins, but that's what Westland John Glenn coach Barry Basel and myself wound up doing yesterday.

And for a very good reason: the annual All-Area Track Meet.

It has been an annual affair in these parts to climax the high school track season with the All-Area Meet. An inseparable part of the prep scene, since the Wayne Jaycees dug into their coffers and brought out the monies to pay for the medals and officiating, the All-Area competition is in jeopardy.

Because of economics, the Jaycees had to bow out as the sponsors a few years ago. The Daily Eagle and Associated Newspapers picked up the tab for the last six meets and the meets continued.

However, the recent economical slump may end the meet.

WE'RE ALSO FACED WITH economic reality. And the meet will have to be a cancelled unless we solve our money problems. It is unfortunate because most coaches and athletes in the area have enjoyed the competition.

The basic purpose of the meet is to select an All-Area Track & Field team but much more have developed over the years such as the kind of competition one likes to see on the high school scene.

"I feel that it is one meet that the kids really like to compete in," offered Basel who has been in these parts for the past 11 seasons. "They like the meet because it gives them an opportunity to compete against the very best athletes in the area."

"Most of the kids don't have the chance to meet in a head-on meet with the area athletes because they're in different leagues and your meet helps tie these loose ends together."

Basel suggested that in order to keep the meet "alive" in entry fee should be charged.

"I KNOW THE ENTRY FEE would not cover all of the expenses, but it would help defray some of the cost," he said. "I don't think there is a track coach in the area that doesn't look upon the All-Area Meet as a worthy cause."

Wonder what the other track coaches in the area have to say?

MOST STUDENTS of history will recall the story of the Liberty Bell and how when it was first hung in 1753 it was cracked during testing.

Well, Stevenson Junior High School is in possession of one cracked trophy this week, but Coach Karen Morey vows she will have it recast.

Stevenson won the inaugural Wayne-Westland Community School District junior high swimming championships over the weekend and the championship trophy that goes with the title.

However, just before presentation of the trophy, someone knocked over the trophy and it cracked.

"We'll have it fixed and in good shape in no time," said Ms. Morey.

Ms. Morey is anxious to get the travelling trophy in shape. She figures that her team will make the cracked medal a permanent fixture at the junior high school.

Babe Ruth meet set

The Belleville Babe Ruth League will hold a meeting at 7:30 p.m. March 24, at Belleville High School. The main topic of the meeting agenda will be the election of officers for the ensuing year.

Vicchy, Pawloski are top swim coaches

SAM VICCHY

Two coaches, whose teams' combined record is 23-5 and have swept most of the area's top swim titles, share this year's Swim Coach of the Year honors. They are Belleville's Sam Vicchy and Cherry Hill Jerry Pawloski.

Vicchy's Tigers captured the Western Wayne Invitational, earned third place in the prestigious Suburban 8 Conference, (behind state powers Dearborn and Edsel Ford) and finished with a 11-3 overall record on the season.

"THIS HAS been a very satisfying season for us," said Vicchy who completed his fifth year as the Tiger mentor. "Most of the kids on our team this season are products of our AAU swim program who have been developed from scratch."

"That's why I'm so pleased with what we did this year."

Vicchy was quick to point out that his team's success also belonged to assistant coaches Bill Snider, diving coach Frank Musser and junior high coach John Stosick.

"They've just done a superb job for us and we're very fortunate in having such men associated and coaching our boys."

WINNING league titles isn't anything new for Pawloski and the Spartans. They captured a share of the Tri-River championship this season and it was their fifth title in seven years.

Pawloski's contingent also won the Garden City East Invitational, the Dearborn Heights Annapolis Relays and placed second at the WW Meet. His team was only one of three to beat Belleville in dual meet competition.

Pawloski, who will celebrate his 32nd birthday tomorrow, also credits his team's success to a "couple of devoted assistants."

"I COACH football, so the job of getting the team ready goes to Jim Shoemaker. He is one of the reasons why we're in excellent condition early in the season is because of his work."

"And George Speir, who is the coach at John Hill Junior High, Cherry Hill's "feeder" school) is also doing a great job with the kids over there."

Tiger Swim Club eyes state honor

With 11 swimmers competing in 17 separate events, the Belleville AAU Tiger Swim Club will be well represented at the State AAU Meet held March 21-23 at Western Michigan University.

Swimming in seven individual events and as part of two relays will be 14-year-old Russ Bearance.

A stand out all season long for the South Junior High squad, Bearance is expected to place in the 100 yard freestyle and 100 yard backstroke with seed times of 56.0 and 1:03.4, respectively.

ALSO competing in the 13-14 year old age group will be Phil Berger and Joe Thomas.

While swimming in the 400-yard-free style and 400 yard medley relays, Berger stands his best chance to place in the 100 yard butterfly with a 1:04.2.

Thomas, swimming with Berger on those same relays, will be going in the 100- and 200-yard breaststroke with times of 1:12.2 and 2:42.0.

Two brother combinations, Chris and Howard Renton, and Mike and Mark Stoelton, will be going in nine different races.

CHRIS, competing in the 11-12 age group, will attempt to place in the 50 yard butterfly with a 29.8 on Saturday and then come back on Sunday in the 100 yard butterfly with a 1:12.0.

Big brother Howard, a freshman at South, is seeded in the 100 yard backstroke at 1:03.0 and in the 500 yard freestyle at 5:30.5.

Mike Stoelton stands an excellent chance to finish high in the 50 yard freestyle at 26.2 and in the 100 yard freestyle at 58.0. Mark, who is the 1974-75 50 yard freestyle champion in the Suburban 8, will be swimming in the 50-100- and 200-yard freestyle.

Other team members making the trip to Western Michigan will be Jeff Bullock, Bob Memering, Chris Liedel and Pike Walker.

STATE QUALIFIERS—Twelve members of the Belleville Tiger Swim Club have qualified for the state AAU age group meet to be held later this month. Members of Mark Rairick's (from left) team are Bob Memering, Jeff Bullock, Mike Stoelton and

Crown still with North

For the third consecutive year, Belleville North Junior High School reigns as the West Suburban Junior High Conference wrestling king.

North came from behind in the preliminary rounds to beat O.W. Best Junior High.

North crowned five league champs: Terry Duane at 73 lbs., Matt Gary at 80 lbs., Scott Harsch at 87 lbs., Stan Johnson at 122 lbs., and Brent Verroth at 136 lbs.

Briggs 155 lbs. and Parsons 167 lbs.

North outdistanced the rest of the field with 127 points, O.W. Best 105, South 84, Vogel 61, Radcliff 44, Haston 39, Cambridge 32, and Burger 23.

Tigers hold prices

North got second place points from Ed Paris 101 lbs., Tom Memering 145 lbs., and Jim McCarty 155 lbs. Wrestling back in the consolation for thirds were Frank Gercak 66 lbs., Brian Clark 115 lbs., Frank Buho 129 lbs., Leon Moore 167 lbs., and Steve Simons Heavyweight.

SOUTH Junior High had firsts by Dave Ford at 115 lbs., and Bob Cook at 115 lbs., and second for heavyweights. Second for South were Darty at 129 lbs. Thirds were won by Goins 80 lbs., Joe Justin 87 lbs., Rose 94 lbs., Bob Morris 136 lbs., and Larry Pingston 145 lbs. Fourths were taken by DETROIT — Here's another good reason why Tiger baseball continues as the biggest bargain in sports — no increase in parking fees for 1975.

Members of the Tiger Stadium Parking Lot Association which controls, by far, most of the parking space in the immediate vicinity of Tiger Stadium has announced a "hold-the-line" policy.

30 make team

Continued from Page A-10 place honors in the event in the league. He went to the state as a member of the 400-yard freestyle relay team and also to compete in the 200-yard freestyle.

Barber's 1:51.7 stood up as the best time this season in the 200-yard freestyle.

LEHMAN also will be back next year. The 16-year-old junior placed third in the 200-yard freestyle at the WW, then turned in the eighth best time in the event in the league. He also was a member of Belleville's state qualifying 400-yard freestyle relay team.

CURTIS is the second of three sophs drafted by the area coaches for All-Area. Vicchy believes the 16-year-old swimmer has great potential as a backstroke and went on record as saying:

"Ron is going to be the best backstroke we have ever had here at Belleville," the Tiger mentor noted. Curtis picked up a ninth place in the league in his specialty.

The third sophomore is Gable, a versatile athlete who is specializing in the freestyle events. Harold placed sixth in the WW and 12th in the league in the 50-yard freestyle.

HAMILTON capped a three-year varsity career by placing ninth in the 200-yard freestyle at the WW, then came back to wind up 10th in the league. He had a sixth place in the 500-yard freestyle.

ZIOLKOWSKI will be carrying on Belleville's tradition of producing excellent divers. The 16-year-old junior was second to Liebler at the WW and sixth in the league, and went on to earn a 12th place in the state.

Cherry Hill, co-holder of the Tri-River Conference title, placed seven swimmers on this year's team. They are Mike and Rick Kogelschatz, Mark Burke, Randy Wehrmeister, Craig Siemienak, Randy Schnitzlein and Mark Cotter.

Wayne Memorial had the next largest contingent with four: Dave Brown, Dave Santure, Dan Osborne, and Rick Korzon, followed by Livonia Franklin and Dearborn Heights Robichaud which had two apiece. The Livonians' contributions are Chuck White and Steve Christie while Robichaud's top swimmers were Jim Davis and Ken Konchel.

Westland John Glenn's Tom Bird, Garden City West's Chuck Soehnlein and East's Mark Blanchard round out this year's team.

2 Huron cagers honored

Two New Boston Huron cagers were named recently to the all-Huron Conference team.

second team, joining Charlie Irwin (Flat Rock), Dave Ginrich (Grosse Ile), Bill Brenton (Monroe Catholic Central), Tom Gorman (Carlson) and Gary VanHouten (Airport).

The league coaches picked a first team that was made up of Tom Sherman (Monroe Catholic Central), Joe Drennin (Carlson), Terry Allen (Grosse Ile), Mark Clum (Grosse Ile), Kevin Cadwell (Monroe Jefferson), Al Sandiffer (Monroe Jefferson) and Bruce Hughes (Tecumseh).

Honors befall 5 from area

Five residents of Western Wayne County earned distinction in a variety of pursuits recently, from education to careers.

Jane A. Polenz of Romulus was among the 56 students who graduated from Sinai Hospital of Detroit's Shaper School of Nursing in recent ceremonies at Sinai's Zuckerman Auditorium.

A senior at Belleville High School, Charles Dougherty of 126 S. Biggs St. in Belleville, won second place and a $900 college scholarship in the John S. Knight Debate Contest held recently at the Heritage Hotel in Detroit.

Charles bested a field of 37 finalists to capture top honors in the competition.

His brother, John, will receive a $100 scholarship for placing as a runner-up in the contest. Their debate coach is David White.

Western Michigan University student Linda Youngblood of 5033 Willis Road in Belleville has graduated from the Kalamazoo college with a bachelor of science degree. She was one of 1,528 seniors who received degrees at the fall commencement.

Donald S. Beisel of Romulus was one of 240 employees of Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak who recently were honored for years of service to the facility. Beisel received a 5-year service award as the hospital observed its 20th year of operation.

Huron official supports jobs fund

The superintendent of the Huron School District, Byron K. Antcliff, recently joined the head of the Wayne County Intermediate School District and two other Western Wayne County school systems in speaking before a congressional committee to support continuation of Title VI of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA).

The superintendents appeared before the House Subcommittee on Manpower, Compensation and Health and Safety to urge continuance of the federal job funding program. The House subcommittee is considering a bill which would continue the act through fiscal 1976.

"The problems of unemployment in Michigan have reached crisis proportions," said Dr. William Simmons, superintendent of the intermediate school district. "While the nation's unemployment rate is 8 percent, Michigan's is approaching 15 percent."

"I would urge that the committee continue all CETA programs. Each serves a vital need. Title VI has the urgency that its statutory authority expires on June 30. The educational agencies of the State of Michigan urge increased funding for the present program and the addition of a summer youth jobs program."

Title VI of the program covers federal funds made available to communities to hire unemployed residents. Some school district heads are hoping to expand the program to include school systems to facilitate the hiring of more district employees. Also attending the hearing was Wayne-Westland Community School Supt. Timothy Dyer and Livonia School Supt. George Carver.

Jaycees offer citizen award

Romulus residents involved in the betterment of the community may be in line to receive the Distinguished Service Award, presented annually by the Romulus Jaycees.

by a panel of judges, composed of Jaycee members.

According to project chairman Tom Von Glahn, nominations must contain the name, address and accomplishments of the potential recipient and be sent to P.O. Box 35, Romulus. The applications also should include the name, address and telephone number of the person making the nomination.

Residents with questions concerning the award, can contact Von Glahn at 941-4320.

Leaguers to dance

The Romulus Civic League will sponsor a spring benefit dance at 6 p.m. Saturday at the league building, 11495 Wahrman Road, Romulus. Entertainment at the dance will include a short play, fashion show, skits and songs.

Karen Vandecar wed in morning ceremony

White spider mums adorned the altar of the Willow United Methodist Church as Karen L. Vandecar and Charles D. Struble exchanged nuptial vows and wedding bands. The Rev. Richard Venus-Madden presided at the 10 a.m. ceremony before some 100 assembled guests. The couple, who have planned their honeymoon to West Virginia for this summer, are now at home at 40427 Willow Rd., New Boston.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Vandecar of Haggerty Road, New Boston, Karen was given in marriage by her father. For her wedding day, she made her own gown of ivory knit brocade and its companion veil. The dress's little fitted bodice featured a jewel neckline and long, full chiffon sleeves embellished with tiny appliques.

The crescent cap, which secured her ivory illusion veil, was made of lace to match the trim on the waistline and cuffs of the gown. Completing her bridal finery was a semi-cascade bouquet of white mums, spider mums and roses with dried red flowers adding a touch of color.

THE BRIDE, who made her home at 240 Second St., Belleville, prior to her marriage, chose her sister, Mrs. Donald (Karla) Clark of Belleville, to serve as honor attendant. Another sister, Mrs. William (Kay) Villa of New Boston, was the only bridesmaid.

The frocks they wore were of red brocade knit similar in design to that worn by the bride with the exception of scoop necklines and gored skirts. The bouquets they held were identical to the bride's.

The bridegroom, the son of Charles Z. Struble of Flat Rock and Mrs. Ronald Long of Carleton, was attended by his brother, Mike Struble of Carleton, as best man. The bride's brother-in-law, Donald Clark of Belleville, was groomsmen.

Guests traveled to the Milan Federal Correctional Institution Training Center for the reception which followed. Mrs. Vandecar received in a navy blue knit street-length dress with white knit trim to which she pinned her corsage of red carnations and white roses. The bridegroom's mother chose to wear a long black velvet skirt and white chiffon blouse for the occasion. Her corsage was comprised of white carnations and red roses.

THE NEW Mrs. Struble holds a BA in music from Michigan State University and is presently working toward her master's degree in elementary education at Eastern Michigan University. She is on the staff at Edgemont Elementary School in the Van Buren School System teaching general music.

Her bridegroom, who served for four years with the U. S. Navy is employed by Detroit, Toledo and Ironton (DT&I) Railroad in Flat Rock.

Jaycee Auxiliary seeking Woman of Year candidates

New classes cure the blahs

If the late winter "blahs" have invaded the family circle, a new series of classes scheduled by the Wayne-Westland Family YMCA might remedy the situation.

Registrations are now underway for classes that begin Monday.

Young people are being offered classes in judo, wrestling, karate, baton, gymnastics, trampoline, cheerleading and creative movement. The very special "Marvelous Monday" is March 31 when youngsters may visit the 'Y' for trampoline, tumbling mats, floor scooters, a YMCA lunch and a special craft.

For more information regarding class schedules and fees, call the 'Y' at 721-7044.

Trimming hospital stay helps save the budget

A single day cut from the average hospital stay across the country would save the American public between $2 and $3 billion a year, estimates the Health Insurance Institute.

Hospital expenses also could be lowered considerably if certain simple health precautions were followed more frequently, reports the institute.

One way of cutting hospital time, of course, is to stay healthy. While few Americans would disagree with this, the fact remains that a great many people still subscribe to the "what you don't know won't hurt you" theory.

THE PROBLEM with that rationale is that while it saves on costs of an annual medical checkup, it has a way of filling up hospital beds. As one university study points out, the most frequent preventable cause of hospital admissions is delay in seeking medical care.

The indisputable fact is that preventive care in the form of regular checkups, or visits to the doctor when symptoms of ill health first appear, can detect and prevent many medical problems before they get out of hand.

When you do make that visit to your doctor, give him a no-holds-barred medical autobiography, the institute says. This should include a full rundown on any medications, tranquilizers, "up" or "down" pills or any other drugs you may be taking. If you drink excessively, you should not hold back that fact either.

This kind of information will help the doctor in a more thorough diagnosis of your problem. It also may prevent him from unknowingly prescribe a drug or medication which might clash with something you're already taking.

BESIDES doctor's

checkups, another effective means of staying out of hospitals is to take advantage of community medical facilities. Keep in mind that public health services are provided for most members of the community, not only for the underprivileged.

There are TB prevention clinics in a growing number of areas, as well as facilities for vaccination against smallpox, rubella, tetanus, polio, flu and hepatitis. For locations, check your local department of health.

If you do go to the hospital on a non-emergency basis, here are ways to save time and money.

— CHECK IN between Monday and Friday morning, if you can. Tests and treatment, unless they are vital, rarely are initiated on weekends.

— Try to schedule your stay for a pre-holiday period such as the week preceding Christmas. Though the season might seem less festive, you may obtain speedier service, not to mention a better chance to get more economical rooms when the hospital is less crowded.

— Ask your doctor about taking all your medical records along. Any recent X-rays and laboratory reports might mean saving taking the tests all over again and mean one less day in the hospital.

With perfume

Leave your scent

Have you discovered that the perfume that's crisp and vibrant on your friend falls flat when you use it?

That's because each perfume has different ingredients which enhance the natural oils of your skin — with its special chemistry — and may actually become unique to you. Before you buy, try. Spray a different scent on each wrist pulse point and allow a few seconds for the alcohol to evaporate and the scent to develop. Never try more than two at a time — it's confusing. Your perfume personality will emerge as you experiment.

If your favorite perfume is too expensive for everyday wear, the fragrance still can be your signature. While perfume is the most concentrated, purest form of scent, your favorite is sure to be available in a more affordable version:

Toilet water, or eau de toilette, is lighter, more diluted, less costly.

Parfum de toilette, is another version of toilet water, but slightly stronger.

Cologne is lighter than toilet water. Think of it as a refresher, nice to splash on.

Perfumed oils are intense and lasting. They should be used to scent bath water, or directly on skin after bath. Dusting powder, talc, scented soaps extend and amplify a perfume. Never use contrasting scents.

Just in case a special person in your life thinks that perfume or cologne would make a nice "extra" gift for you, it's a good idea to let that person know just what "makes scents" for you.

With tax-free bonds

Romulus moves to attract industrial concerns

Romulus has taken a step to bring more industrial development to the community.

The Romulus City Council has approved a request by Seibert Oxiderno Inc. for $800,000 in tax-free industrial development bonds.

"It's a plan where the city bonds for the improvement of an industry on the economic record of that industry," said John Chihan, the city's economic development director and planner. "The city stands no liability, but the industry receives a break on interest rates by having the city request the bonds."

Seibert Oxiderno manufactures protective paints for auto parts and sells the bulk of its products to General Motors Corp.

The corporation, now located in Detroit, hopes to locate in an existing building on Wahrman Road. It could employ 60 persons.

'The city is insured of having a concern which will not collapse.'

"The industry is a good clean business, with anti-fume devices which comply with federal standards on pollution control," Chihan said. "It will be an asset to the community."

The industrial bonding concept was the key to bringing the industry to Romulus, according to Chihan. Under the program, approved by the Michigan Legislature in the early 1960s, a community can ask for as much as $5 million in bonds for an industry.

"The program was conceived to keep industries in Michigan when there was the threat many would leave for better tax breaks in other states," Chihan said. "This is one way of helping an industry and encouraging it to remain in the state."

Chihan added that the bonding program would not allow Romulus to lure another major industry like Kelsey Hayes or General Motors into the community because of the limit on bonding.

"But it will allow the community to lure smaller concerns which will prove to be profitable," he said. "The bonds are sold on the strength of the industry, so it must be a substantial business for the state to approve applications."

"That way, the city is insured of having a concern which will not collapse," Chihan said the city will know within 60 to 90 days whether its application on behalf of the paint concern is approved.

According to Chihan, bonding through financial institutions without a government's tax-free status is running at a 12 percent rate while bonds requested by government agencies are running at eight percent.

AMC subsidiary wins contract

American Motors' bus-making subsidiary has won contracts valued at $25.8 million and will provide 10 U.S. cities with a total of 430 buses, according to recent reports from the automaker. AM General Corp. said the new sales bring its total orders, since entering the field, to 1,921 from 24 transit authorities.

The latest contracts are 100 buses for San Francisco; 93 for Louisville, Ky.; 10 for Hilo and 85 for Honolulu, Hawaii; 22 for Birmingham, Ala.; 12 for Tucson, Ariz.; 10 for Fresno, Calif.; 23 for Richmond, Va.; 50 for Omaha, Neb. and 25 for Beaumont, Tex.

third time and now plans to keep the program in force until the end of March, adding refunds of $150 on certain truck models.

The program, originally scheduled to end in February, was last extended to March 22. It was first introduced in mid-January.

The current rebate program is a scaled-down version of the original. The other Big Four automakers also had rebate plans, but canceled them at the end of last month due to the heavy costs involved.

Fred Thompson, executive director of the public relations staff, is retiring from Ford Motor Co. after 25 years of service in a variety of management public relations assignments.

Thompson will be succeeded by Walter T. Murphy, presently executive director of North American Public Relations.

American Motors dealers are reporting showroom traffic "the best in 10 years" as a result of the Pacer's first on-sale week, the firm reported.

"It's like old times when a new car introduction brought people into showrooms in large numbers," said one suburban Detroit dealer. "Our three demonstrator cars have been in constant use since Friday."

Romulus board sets date to accept bids

The Van Buren Township Board of Education will accept bids for the sale of $4 million of building bonds at 7:30 p.m. April 9.

Van Buren School Supt. Dale Kaulitz said the bond sale date was set at last week's board meeting to carry out the sale of bonds approved by voters in a special election on Sept. 30 last year.

"We hope to have several bids, award the low bidder and sell the bonds," Kaulitz added. "If we do, about six weeks later we'll have money in hand for construction of the buildings."

The superintendent said the $4 million raised through bond sales is intended for use in construction of new school buildings in the district. Sites for the new buildings have not yet been chosen, he added.

RESOLUTION 75-257

WHEREAS: Act No. 198 of the Public Acts of 1974 is designed to provide a stimulus in the form of significant tax incentives to industry to renovate and/or expand aging plants and to build new plants in Michigan; and WHEREAS: Under the provisions of the Act, a local governmental unit in which the total property tax levy is at least thirty (30) mills may establish industrial development districts and offer industrial firms certain property tax incentives to attract new plants to the area; and

To spark pride

Romulus sights set on year-long cleanup

The cleanup campaign in Romulus scheduled to start next month may turn out to be more than an annual month-long affair if the project chairman has her way.

Joan A. Lee, vice-chairman of the Romulus City Council, and chairman of this year's campaign, is hoping cleanup becomes a year-long activity in the city. "It's a matter of community pride," Mrs. Lee said. "I think people care, but they see others who don't care about the looks of their community, and wonder why should they put out an effort. "But the month-long campaigns planned by the city last year and again this year are designed to make more and more people aware of the pride they should have and make the effort universal."

Mrs. Lee added she was not happy with last year's cleanup effort because it didn't draw the overwhelming community support she would like to see. But this year she's planning a new tack in her campaign to see the city cleaned.

"I'm hoping to approach the schools about a poster contest in which all the grade schoolers in the district will be asked to design a poster on promoting the cleanup campaign," she said. "That way the kids will be going back home and informing their parents that they're working on the project and making their parents aware of the campaign. "I think you have to go right into the home to make the people aware, and you'll receive the support."

Mrs. Lee is considering forming a permanent committee assigned with overseeing the beautification of Romulus.

"Other communities have beautification commissions to handle the chore, but Romulus doesn't," she said. "I'd like to see the community devise one."

"There's a need for some public group to look at the cleanliness of the community on a year-round basis and to worry about improving the appearance of city lands."

In addition to the cleanup campaign, Mrs. Lee is hoping to promote a planting program using flowers to improve the appearance of city property.

"If the city government takes pride in its work, then the citizens will," she added. "I think all city officials should get behind the program and promote it."

Romulus Mayor Terry L. Trout said he is behind the cleanup program, initiated by him last year, adding he intends to combine an ordinance enforcement program into this year's efforts.

"The city already has started to get rid of dilapidated housing which destroys the image of the community," he said. "I think the cleanup organization's really moving, and I hope it continues the momentum."

"While the cleanup's going on, I'll be assigning three building inspectors to the ordinance department for four hours each day to help out with inspections. "This year the city will end up not only with a community cleaned of debris, but hopefully with individuals' property policed and looking decent."

LOST LUGGAGE
International Luggage Regs., is a new computerized service, with a yearly membership fee, that matches missing luggage with its owner in record time. The motto of this service: "To Each His Own." If you've lost something be sure to dial 729-3300... the number of Associated Newspapers Classified Ads right away. You'll reach thousands of homes in our 3 newspapers, and there's a good chance your lost article will be returned.

THERE ARE SUCH THINGS...

Some items never lose their value nor their appeal. For example, the trumpet your youngster never really enjoyed playing will gladden the heart of a more musically inclined child. And the camera you've since replaced with a more sophisticated model could be the start of some other family's treasured photo album. There are dozens of such items... many of which you may now be storing in your home... that other families would love to own. Make it happen! Advertise those items for sale with a low-cost Classified Ad. You'll enjoy the extra cash resulting from the sale and your buyer will enjoy being able to purchase these things at less than today's high prices for a brand new item. Think about the good things you could exchange for cash... then give us a call. We'll help you word your ad for quick results.
